

SUMMER'S GONE.

Mark, through the dim woods dying,
With a low moan,
Faintly the winds are sighing—
Summer's gone!
There was thy brilliant heart gleaming,
And the pale moon her face revealing,
Dusky my footsteps stealthily
To wrap around
Hour after hour I wander
By my name—
And sadly my young thoughts ponder,
On what hath been—
Summer's gone!
There in our own green bowers,
Long ago,
Our path through the tangled flowers
Treading slow;
Off hand in hand entwining—
Oh side by side reclining,
We've watched in its crimson shining
The sunset glow.
Dinily the sun now burneth
For me alone—
Spring after spring returneth,
Thou art gone—
Summer's gone!
Still on my warm cheek playeth
The reddest blush;
Still in its freshness stayeth
Between the trees;
Still the blue streamlet gusheth—
Still the proud river rusheth—
Still the calm silence husheth
The heart's sighs;
But who will bring our meetings
Back again?
What shall recall their greetings—
Loved in vain?
Summer's gone!

ELECTION OF HARRISON.—The London Chronicle of the 24 of November, after giving the returns of the country banks, which show a contraction of their issues to the extent of £1,000,000—says the election of General Harrison is deemed secure, and the citizens of the United States look forward to it as an era of renewed prosperity, when their monetary system is to be placed on a new basis, and the national credit restored. "We trust they have reaped prudence from experience, and that their gigantic schemes of internal improvement and States loans will not be renewed. If so, we fear that the election of General Harrison and the creation of a Bank and national currency will end in disaster."—Bay State Dem.

Yes, we proclaim it to the world as the irresistible convictions of our mind, that in the recent election, fraud, falsehood, and corruption took the place of the ballot box. This result has been brought about by the basest frauds—double voting, importing voters from district to district, from State to State, and from Canada to the United States. For instance—the little county of Erie, in this State, lying on the bay, where there are but eight hundred and sixty four white male inhabitants over twenty years of age as returned by the assessor, the Federal British ticket received thirteen hundred and two votes, being a majority of two hundred over the Democratic vote. This accession to the allied powers here, no doubt, came across from their loyal friends in Canada.—Jeffersonian.

EXTRAVAGANT EXPENDITURE.—It should be borne in mind that the Federal party had a majority upon all the committees at the last session of Congress, whose duty it was to look after the expenditures of the Government; and yet after all the charges of corruption, waste, extravagance, the Whig committees had nothing to complain of, no abuses to remedy, no extravagance to reform, no evils to correct; they had full power to examine, and yet, at the close of the session, Mr. Briggs, the Whig chairman, asked the committee to be discharged, having no report to make. Will honest men believe the reckless and unfounded charges which have been made without rhyme or reason?—Old Dominion.

The New York New Era mentions the fact, that mechanics wages in that City have been reduced two shillings in the days allowance, as one of the fruits of the "change" for which the friends of Harrison clamored so boisterously. The proprietors of the factories at Steubenville, Ohio, have also reduced the wages of those employed in their establishments to an low a rate, that they are scarcely sufficient to procure the common necessities of life. This is what we would call a "change" with a vengeance.—Mayville Monitor.

SESSION OHIO STATESMAN.

WE propose to issue the STATESMAN, during the session of the Ohio Legislature, at Columbus, Ohio, on the 1st of December, 1840, at the rate of $1.00 SEMI-WEEKLY, 1.00 WEEKLY.

Persons desiring, will please designate which paper it is that they desire. The approaching session of the Ohio Legislature, will be one of more than usual interest to all parties. The Ohio Statesman will be in progress—its editorial will have developed his measures, or rather its measures of the Bankers and Abolitionists that elected him, and in whose behalf he is.

When these measures are presented to the Legislature by Governor Cassin, as is his duty by the constitution, the tug of war will commence in the Legislature; and, for the first time for years, the people will have an opportunity of seeing what the principles of whiggery really are in practice, and a fair recompense can be made between the doctrines of the two parties, touching the great interests of civil rights and constitutional government.

We shall have good reports, and use what in history we are capable of employing on our paper, to give a correct and extensive view of all their doings; and the first curious item will be a law reducing the salaries of all the officers in the State, as promised to the people. The next will be, to raise the wages of labor—increasing the price of wheat and pork—introducing the negroes from Kentucky into our courts as witnesses, and introducing negro soldiers; but not into our Colleges where Bankers' children congregate. All these have a clear and common sense movements will be carried with care and precision, and when necessary made into first rate Topics of song, and sung to keep the members' spirits up.

At its sessions already on foot, as we are informed, to chain down the people by a great black machinery, more powerful than the throne of the Russian Autocrat, will be watched with care. Let the people read and judge for themselves.

The proceedings of Congress will also be duly given as they receive.

S. & M. H. MEDARY.

PROSPECTUS FOR THE

CONGRESSIONAL GLOBE AND APPENDIX.

THESE works will be published by us during the approaching session of Congress. They have had such a wide circulation in the United States, and their usefulness and cheapness are so universally acknowledged, that we deem it unnecessary to give a detailed account of what the future numbers will contain. Suffice it to say that they will be invaluable to all who feel an interest in the proceedings of Congress. No other publication gives them so full, nor half so cheap. It is, in fact, the cheapest publication in the United States—anywhere in the world. Our position at the seat of Government enables us to print them at a low rate. We are compelled to publish the proceedings of Congress in detail, for our daily paper. This done, it requires, comparatively, but a small additional expense to change the type to the form of the Congressional Globe and Appendix. If it were not for these circumstances, we could not thus publish them for four times the sum charged. In some parts of the United States, the white paper, upon which these works are printed, would sell for as much as we charge for the publications.

The Congressional Globe is made up of the daily proceedings of the two Houses of Congress, and the speeches of the members contained therein. The year and name on all important subjects are given. It is published as fast as the business of the two Houses affords matter enough for a number. Each number will contain six royal quarto pages, of small type. We expect to publish three numbers for every two weeks of the session. The Appendix contains the speeches of the members at full length, written out by themselves, and is printed in the same form as the Congressional Globe. It is published as fast as the speeches can be prepared by the members.

Each of these works is complete in itself. But it is desirable for every subscriber to have both; because, if there should be any ambiguity in the synopsis of a speech in the Congressional Globe, or any denial of its correctness, it may be removed at once, by referring to the speech in the Appendix. Indexes to both are sent to subscribers as soon as they can be prepared after the adjournment of Congress.

TERMS. For one copy of the Congressional Globe $1 For one copy of the Appendix $1 Six copies of either of the above works will be sent for $5, twelve copies for $10, and a proportionate number of copies for a larger sum. Payments may be transmitted by mail, postage paid, or in United States notes, or in gold or silver coin. The notes of any incorporated bank in the United States, current in the district of country where a subscriber resides, will be received.

To insure all the numbers, the subscription should be here by the 14th of December next at farthest. The Democratic papers with which we exchange will please give this prospectus an insertion. No attention will be paid to any order unless the money accompanies it.

WALDIE'S SELECT CIRCULATING

LIBRARY, and Monthly Journal of Political Literature.

The proprietor of this popular and well known periodical has the gratification of replying to the many favorable notices after its completion, and acknowledges to his kind friends and patrons—friends in all portions in the true meaning of the word—that he will resume the publication next January. Restored by a beneficent Providence to active life, he hopes again to be able to give that superintending face to the publication which was his pride and pleasure for seven years. He anticipates, with inexpressible satisfaction, the revival of associations with thousands of families, with either of which an acquaintance is now formed. During his protracted indisposition, the intensity of suffering was greatly mitigated by the generous expressions of sympathy and regard received from his kind-hearted patrons, and the glow and ardor of a sick room were much lightened by the rays of a genuine friendship admitted from every quarter. The egotism, he hopes, will be judged of mildly—but certainly has a wish to make a display—but the impulse of a grateful acknowledgment for such disinterested kindness was irresistible, and he could not suppress the re-appearance of the work without yielding to it.

To this end he addresses himself, solicited for their continued support and hopes to have the library once more introduced among their families; see it honored again with a place on their estate tables, and become a welcome weekly visitor. He is at the same time very desirous to extend his acquaintance and form new friends. From the arrangements made, dictated by experience, the library it is believed, will in every respect be improved. There will be more distinct, the monthly contents will be, and a new cover issued. The cover will be made so as to avoid the extra postage. The monthly Journal, however, to make a sheet of abiding interest, as combining original and selected articles, of foreign and domestic literature, science and art, and from each source of responsibility, as to make it a work of authority and reference.

The regularity of its future publication, not a failure in seven years, will be taken as a guarantee for the future punctuality of the library; but it is only one way to make that punctuality; by payment in advance. This is as inflexible pre-requisite from all at a distance. The losses by diverting from this rule formerly are too heavily to be forgotten, and a little reflection may satisfy any one of the necessities of the request. The reasons are too obvious, indeed, to require much discussion. Five dollars are all that a subscriber risks, but the publisher risks thousands, by crediting. The publisher is in a city, and can be reached without trouble. A subscriber lives perhaps a thousand miles off, and it is only one way to make that punctuality; by payment in advance. The reasons are too obvious, indeed, to require much discussion. Five dollars are all that a subscriber risks, but the publisher risks thousands, by crediting. The publisher is in a city, and can be reached without trouble. A subscriber lives perhaps a thousand miles off, and it is only one way to make that punctuality; by payment in advance. This is as inflexible pre-requisite from all at a distance. The losses by diverting from this rule formerly are too heavily to be forgotten, and a little reflection may satisfy any one of the necessities of the request.
